Fencing to be kept in position while machinery in motion or use—Printing press—Partial rotation of cylinder for cleaning—Whether machine 'in use'—Factories Act 1937, s 16. Kelly v John Dale Ltd [1964] 2 497, QBD.

Fencing to be kept in position while machinery in motion or use—Transmission machinery—Machinery dismantled, guard removed and power cut off—Movement by hand—Whether 'in motion'—Factories Act 1937, s 13(1), s 14(1), s 16. Richard Thomas and Baldwins Ltd v Cummings [1955] 1 285, HL.

Foreseeability of injury—Horizontal milling machine—Machine comprising traversing table carrying block in nature of vice—Bolts to be milled affixed to block—Whether block, when moving and carrying bolts, dangerous part of machinery—Factories Act 1937, s 14(1). Eaves v Morris Motors Ltd [1961] 3 233, CA.

Foreseeability of injury—Inference from primary facts—Machine capable of causing injury—Warnings by employers to workmen to be careful—Fencing previously put on machine to emphasise warnings removed—Injury suffered by operator—Whether reasonably foreseeable—Factories Act 1961, s 14(1). Woodley v Meason Freer & Co Ltd [1963] 3 636, QBD.

Foreseeability of injury—No danger to operator—Appreciable, but not serious, risk to cleaners—Whether machinery dangerous—Factories Act 1937, s 14(1). Dunn v Birds Eye Foods Ltd [1959] 2 403, QBD.

Foreseeability of injury—Rolling machine in bakery—Guard leaving space for operator's hand to go underneath it—Operator putting hand through in breach of instructions—Factories Act 1937, s 14(1). Smith v Chesterfield & District Co-operative Society Ltd [1953] 1 447, CA.

Foreseeability of injury—Unfenced nip between conveyor belt and roller—Employee cleaning machine in motion—Employee injured—Contributory negligence—Causation—Apportionment of liability—Factories Act 1937, s 14(1)—Law Reform (Contributory Negligence) Act 1945, s 1(1). Williams v Sykes and Harrison Ltd [1955] 3 225, CA.

Foreseeability of injury—Unfenced pinion-wheels—Injury to workman—Factory and Workshop Act 1901, s 10(1)(c). Chasteney v Michael Nairn & Co Ltd [1937] 1 376, KBD.

Machinery—Employee injured by dangerous and unfenced part of machinery manufactured in factory—Whether 'machinery' including machinery which product of factory—Factories Act 1937, s 14(1), s 16, s 20. Parvin v Morton Machine Co Ltd [1952] 1 670, HL.

Machinery—Mobile crane—Failure to fence—Gap between rotating body and wheel—Injury to workman trapped in gap—Crane part of factory equipment containing machinery—Mobility of crane did not exclude it from Factories Act 1961, s 14(1). British Railways Board v Liptrot [1967] 2 1072, HL.

Machinery—Overhead travelling cable-way used for transporting materials from one part of factory to another—Large buckets suspended from cables and intermittently in motion—Bottom of buckets passing four feet above flat roof of factory building—Access to part of factory obtained from flat roof—Injury to workman standing on roof—Whether cable-way was 'machinery'—Factories Act 1937, s 14(1). Quintas v National Smelting Co Ltd [1961] 1 630, CA.

Machinery—Truck for conveying factory product—Whether 'machinery' requiring to be fenced—Factories Act 1937, s 14(1). Cherry v International Alloys Ltd [1960] 3 264, CA.

Method of fencing machine best method known at time—Cutting machine—Machine accidentally set in operation—Failure to use clearing tool—Operator injured—Liability of employers—Factories Act 1937, ss 14(1)(2), 133. Dennistoun v Charles E Greenhill Ltd [1944] 2 434, KBD.

Mill gearing—Nature of duty—Absolute duty to fence—Factory and Workshop Act 1901, s 10(1)(c). Findlay v Newman, Hender & Co Ltd [1937] 4 58, KBD.

Nature of duty—Absolute duty of occupier to fence securely—Factories Act 1937, ss 14, 119(2), 130(2), 133. Wraith v Flexile Metal Co Ltd [1942] 2 549, KBD.

Nature of duty—Absolute duty of occupier to fence securely—Gear-wheels of reeling-machine—Factory and Workshop Act 1901, s 10(1)(c). Sutherland v Executors of James Mills Ltd [1938] 1 283, KBD.

Nature of duty—Plaintiff injured by guillotine machine—Findings by jury that plaintiff not negligent and that machine securely fenced—Whether findings mutually exclusive—Factory and Workshop Act 1901, s 10(1)(c). Vowles v Armstrong Siddeley Motors Ltd [1938] 4 796, CA.

Part of machinery not dangerous in itself—Component to be bored affixed to machine—Danger arising from machinery in use with component affixed—Vertical boring machine—Whether duty to fence component affixed to machine—Factories Act 1937, s 14(1). Hoare v M & W Grazebrook Ltd [1957] 1 470, Assizes.

Part of machinery not dangerous in itself—Danger caused by conjunction of part of machine with part of materials used on it—Factories Act 1937, s 14(1). Lewis v High Duty Alloys Ltd [1957] 1 740, Assizes.

Part of machinery not dangerous in itself—Danger caused by juxtaposition of workpiece—Factories Act 1961, s 14(1). Johnson v F E Callow (Engineers) Ltd [1970] 3 639, HL.

Part of machinery not dangerous in itself—Gap between one machine and end of another machine—Moving part of machinery not foreseeable cause of danger—Whether duty to fence where any danger caused by proximity of moving part to stationary extraneous object—Factories Act 1937, s 14. Pearce v Stanley-Bridges Ltd [1965] 2 594, CA.

Part of machinery not dangerous in itself—Stationary part—Moving material—Felt milling machine—Whether stationary part and moving material together amounted to dangerous part—Factories Act 1961, s 14(1). Hindle v Joseph Porritt & Sons Ltd [1970] 1 1142, Assizes.

Making of an article—Adapting for sale of article—Gas works—Reconstruction of gas holder on site separate from gas works—Site in exclusive possession of contractors—Whether coal gas 'article'—Factories Act 1937, s 151(1)(e)(c)(xiii) (6). Cox v S Cutler & Sons Ltd and Hampton Court Gas Co [1948] 2 665, CA.

Making of an article—Photographic business carried on by way of trade involving supply of prints together with right to produce prints to various media of public dissemination—Use of manual labour only in dark room and glazing room used for producing prints—Whether premises a factory—Factories Act 1937, s 151(1). Paul Popper Ltd v Grimsey [1962] 1 864, QBD.

Manual labour—Incidental use of back-room—Television and radio sets sold and hired out in shop—Workshop or workroom at back of shop where repairs and maintenance of sets carried out by radio and television engineer—Whether engineer engaged in manual labour—Whether premises a factory within the meaning of the Factories Act 1961, s 175(1). Stone (J & F) Lighting & Radio Ltd v Haygarth [1966] 3 53, HL.

Repair of vehicles—Exception—Premises used for housing of vehicles where only cleaning, washing, running repairs or minor adjustments carried out—Whether omnibus depot within exception—Factories Act 1937, s 151(1)(vi). Jones v Crosville Motor Services Ltd [1956] 3 417, Assizes.

Repair of vehicles—Exception—Premises used for housing vehicles where only cleaning, washing, running repairs or minor adjustments carried out—Running repairs—Minor adjustments—Factories Act 1937, s 151(1). Griffin v London Transport Executive [1950] 1 716, KBD.

Work carried on by way of trade or for the purposes of gain—Testing place—Premises used for testing concrete—Town planning scheme—Whether premises 'factory' within definition—Factories Act 1937, s 151(1). Hendon Corp'n v Stanger [1948] 1 377, CA.

Premises included within definition—

Premises in occupation of public authority—Work not carried on by way of trade or for purposes of gain—Technical institute carried on by local authority—Whether a 'factory'—Factories Act 1937, s 151(9). Weston v London County Council [1941] 1 555, KBD.

Premises within close or curtilage or precincts of which persons employed in manual labour—

Close or curtilage or precincts—Areas at quay bounded on one side by quay wall, on other side by warehouses and at each end by access road—No exclusive use of areas—Use for storage and assembly of steel components of floating dock—Whether a 'factory'—Factories Act 1937, s 151(1). Barry v Cleveland Bridge and Engineering Co Ltd [1963] 1 192, Assizes.

Docks regulations. See Dock.

Duty of care—

Relationship between statutory duty and common law duty of care. See Negligence (Duty to take care—Statutory duty—Relation of statutory duty to common law duty).

Electrical station—

Premises in which electrical energy generated or transformed for purposes of supply—

Kiosk housing transformer and switches—Kiosk divided into three cubicles—Transformer and switches in separate cubicles—Whether whole of kiosk electrical station—Factory and Workshop Act 1901, Sch VI, para (20). Paine v Colne Valley Electricity Supply Co Ltd, and British Insulated Cables Ltd [1938] 4 803, KBD.

Electricity regulations—Electrical apparatus—

Apparatus to be so worked as to prevent danger—Danger—Danger to life from burn or other injury to persons employed—Servant of independent contractor electrocuted—No evidence of danger to servants of occupier—Liability of occupier to penalty—Factories Act 1937, s 60(1) (as amended by Factories Act 1948, s 12(1), Sch I), s 133—Regulations for the Generation, etc., of Electrical Energy 1908, (S R & O 1908 No 1312), definitions, reg 1. Massey-Harris-Ferguson (Manufacturing) Ltd v Piper [1956] 2 722, QBD.

Apparatus to be so worked as to prevent danger—Danger—Danger to life from burn or other injury to persons employed—Fireman electrocuted while fighting fire—Persons employed—Regulations for Generation, Transformation, Distribution and Use of Electrical Energy in Premises under the Factory and Workshop Acts 1901 to 1907 (S R & O 1908 No 1312), reg 9—Factories Act 1937, s 60(1), as amended by Factories Act 1948, s 12(1). Hartley v Mayoh & Co [1954] 1 375, CA.

Such special precautions to be taken as necessary to prevent danger—High voltage testing and research apparatus—Failure of automatic safety devices—Contributory negligence—Failure to use earthing rod in compliance with works regulations—Regulations for the Generation, Transformation, Distribution and Use of Electrical Energy 1908 (S R & O 1908 No 1312), reg 4. Proctor v Johnson and Phillips Ltd [1943] 1 565, CA.

Electrical joints—

Proper construction as regards mechanical strength—Cable supplying electricity to magnet of crane—Duty to make safe for electrician pulling on cable—Regulations for the Generation, Transformation, Distribution and Use of Electrical Energy in Premises under the Factory and Workshop Acts 1901 and 1907 (S R & O 1908 No 1312), reg 6. Gatehouse v John Summers & Sons Ltd [1953] 2 117, CA.

High pressure switchboards—

Duty to screen—Nature of duty—Absolute duty—Regulations for the Generation, Transformation, Distribution and Use of Electrical Energy in Premises under the Factory and Workshops Acts 1901 and 1907 (S R & O 1908 No 1312), reg 18(d), as substituted by Electricity (Factories Act) Special Regulations 1944, (S R & O 1944 No 739). Murfin v United Steel Companies Ltd (Power Gas Corp'n Ltd third Party) [1957] 1 23, CA.

Insulating stands or screens—

Duty to provide even in place set apart for switchboards having bare conductors—Regulations for the Generation, Transformation, Distribution and Use of Electrical Energy in Premises under the Factory and Workshops Acts 1901 and 1907 (S R & O 1908 No 1312), reg 15, reg 24. Murfin v United Steel Companies Ltd (Power Gas Corp Ltd third party) [1957] 1 23, CA.

Lighting of parts of premises in which apparatus placed—

Parts to be adequately lighted to prevent danger—Definition of danger—Construction—Alleged inadequate lighting to prevent danger—Regulations for the Generation, etc, of Electrical Energy 1908 (S R & O 1908 No 1312), reg 26. Lane v London Electricity Board [1955] 1 324, QBD.

Person responsible for complying with regulations—

Building operations—Club premises with restaurant—Restaurant managed by licensee—Joint occupation by club owner and licensee—Re-decoration of restaurant—Electrical work done by electrician of licensee—Plastering work carried out by independent contractor—Workman injured through exposed wires becoming live—Liability of occupiers—Occupiers' Liability Act 1957, s 1—Electricity (Factories Act) Special Regulations 1908 and 1944 (S R & O 1908 No 1312, as amended by S R & O 1944 No 739), reg 1—Factories Act 1961, s 127(4). Fisher v C H T Ltd [1966] 1 88, CA.

Employee—

Duty to use means or appliance provided. See Statutory duty—Duty of persons employed—Duty to use means or appliance provided, post.

Explosive or inflammable substance—

Plant, tank or vessel containing substance—

Prohibition on subjecting plant, etc, to operation involving application of heat—Meaning of 'plant'—Part of apparatus in factory used in carrying on industrial process on premises—Employers metal merchants—Employers acquiring old safe—Safe locked and contents unknown—Employee directed to cut safe open with oxyacetylene cutter—Safe containing gelignite—Safe exploding and injuring employee—Whether safe 'plant'—Whether employers in breach of statutory duty—Factories Act 1961, s 31(4). Haigh v Charles W Ireland Ltd [1973] 3 1137, HL.

Fettling of metal castings—

Obligation to provide suitable goggles or effective screens. See Protection of eyes—Obligation to provide suitable goggles or effective screens—Fettling of metal castings, post.

Floor—

Maintenance—

Duty to ensure floor properly maintained—Extent of duty—Workman slipping on slippery substance on floor of factory—Two persons employed to clean floor—Proper instructions given to work-people—'So far as is reasonably practicable'—Factories Act 1937, s 25(1), as amended, s 26(1), as amended. Braham v J Lyons & Co Ltd [1962] 3 281, CA.

Duty to ensure floor properly maintained—Floor slippery from flood water and oil—Injury to employee—Liability of employer—Factories Act 1937, s 25(1), s 152(1). Latimer v A E C Ltd [1953] 2 449, HL.

Duty to ensure floor properly maintained—Steel plate placed in groove in floor—Plate tipping when employee walking on it—Employee injured—Finding by trial judge that floor not dangerous—Consideration jointly with duty to provide safe means of access—Liability of employers—Factories Act 1937, s 25(1), s 152(1). Payne v Weldless Steel Tube Co Ltd [1955] 3 612, CA.

Duty to ensure floor of sound construction and properly maintained—Test to be applied—Factories Act 1937, s 25(1). Mayne v Johnstone & Cumbers Ltd [1947] 2 159, KBD.

Obstruction—

Duty to keep floor free from obstruction—As far as reasonably practicable—Castings piled prior to removal—Plaintiff, in course of moving casting, trips over scrap which had fallen off one of the castings in the pile—Whether 'obstruction'—Whether reasonably practicable to remove—Factories Act 1961, s 28(1). Jenkins v Allied Ironfounders Ltd [1969] 3 1609, HL.

Duty to keep floor free from obstruction—Meaning of obstruction—Material customarily stored on floor at foot of storage racks—Whether 'obstruction'—Factories Act 1961, s 28(1). Pengelly v Bell Punch Co Ltd [1964] 2 945, CA.

Duty to keep floor free from obstruction—Meaning of obstruction—Passageway separating lathes for purpose of giving access to operatives and for making way whereby material to be treated could be brought to lathe—Trolley left partially in gangway but not for an unreasonably long time—Whether breach of duty at common law—Whether 'obstruction' within Factories Act 1961, s 28(1). Marshall v Ericsson Telephones Ltd [1964] 3 609, CA.

Duty to keep floor free from slippery substance—As far as reasonably practicable—Slippery substance not on floor but on top of two plates lying one on top of another on floor—Accident caused by plates—Whether 'reasonably practicable' to have kept floor free from obstruction—Factories Act 1961, s 28(1). Dorman Long (Steel) Ltd v Bell [1964] 1 617, HL.

Opening—

Duty to fence—Dry dock—Whether 'opening'—Factories Act 1937, s 25(3). Bath v British Transport Commission [1954] 2 542, CA.

Duty to fence—Hole in sand ground level at edge of steel-flagged gangway—Whether hole an 'opening'—Factories Act 1937, s 25(3). Harrison v Metropolitan-Vickers Electrical Co Ltd, Same v Same [1954] 1 404, CA.

Duty to fence—Planking covering part of one level of a gantry—Gaps in planks—Whether planking 'floor'—Factories Act 1937, s 25(3). Tate v Swan Hunter & Wigham Richardson Ltd [1958] 1 150, CA.

Duty to fence—Space for hoist at edge of floor—Whether space 'opening in floor'—Factories Act 1937, ss 25(3), 26(1). Street v British Electricity Authority [1952] 1 679, CA.

Gangways and pouring aisles—

Duty to provide sufficient and clearly defined pouring aisles—

Clearly defined—Iron and Steel Foundries Regulations 1953 (S I 1953 No 1464), reg 6(2)(a).

Hawkins v Ian Ross (Castings) Ltd [1970] 1 180, QBD.Duty to keep free from obstruction—Iron and Steel Foundries Regulations 1953 (S I 1953 No 1464), reg 6(2)(a). Hawkins v Ian Ross (Castings) Ltd, [1970] 1 180, QBD.

Sufficient—Iron and Steel Foundries Regulations 1953 (S I 1953 No 1464), reg 6(2)(a).

Hawkins v Ian Ross (Castings) Ltd [1970] 1 180, QBD.

Grinding machines—

Regulations—

Exemption of portable grinding machines—Swing frame grinder—Whether portable grinding machine within exemption certificate—Grinding of Metals (Miscellaneous Industries) Regulations 1925 (S R & O 1925 No 904), reg 1. Nicholson v Atlas Steel Foundry and Engineering Co Ltd [1957] 1 776, HL.

Grinding of metals—

Removal of dust. See Removal of dust—Grinding of metals, post.

Hoists or lifts—

Duty to ensure of good mechanical construction, sound material, etc—

Employee sustaining injury—Load falling from fork lift truck—Whether fork lift truck a 'hoist or lift'—Factories Act 1961, s 22(1). Oldfield v Reed & Smith Ltd [1972] 2 104, Assizes.Nature of duty—Injury to employee—Latent defect in lift—Absolute duty of occupiers—Factories Act 1937, s 22(1). Whitehead v James Stott Ltd [1949] 1 245, CA.

Duty to ensure properly maintained—

Properly maintained—Unexplained failure of mechanism—Employee killed—Liability of occupier—Factories Act 1937, ss 22(1), 152(1). Galashiels Gas Co Ltd v O'Donnell (or Millar) [1949] 1 319, HL.

Gates—

Duty to provide gates which, when shut, would prevent persons coming into contact with any moving part of lift—Injury to person putting hand through gates in order to close inner gate properly—Factories Act 1937, s 22(3). Blakeley v C & H Clothing Co (a [73328502 firm]) [1958] 1 297, Assizes.

Horizontal milling machines—

Cutters—

Duty to fence. See Dangerous parts of machinery—Duty to fence—Cutters of horizontal milling machines, ante.

Industrial injury—

Injury on factory premises—

Disablement benefit. See Industrial injury (Disablement benefit—Accident arising in the course of employment—Tea-break—Worker injured on factory premises at a time when he was overstayng the tea-break).

Iron and steel foundries—

Gangways and pouring aisles. See Gangways and pouring aisles, ante.

Lifting excessive weights—

Person not to be employed to lift, carry or move excessive weight—

Employed to move—Meaning—Employee instructed to paint stillages—Necessary to turn stillages to paint underneath—Stillages too heavy for one person to turn safely—Employers knowing stillages had been turned single-handed on previous occasions—Employee not instructed to seek help in turning stillages—Help available if asked for—Whether employee 'employed to...move' stillages single-handed—Factories Act 1961, s 72(1). Brown v Allied Ironfounders Ltd [1974] 2 135, HL.

Lifting machine—

Overhead travelling crane—

Men working in or near wheel track of crane—Duty to take effective measures to prevent crane approaching within 20 ft of place where men liable to be struck by crane—Crane working overhead but running along ground—Injury to workman—Whether 'overhead travelling crane'—Factories Act 1937, s 24(7). Carrington v John Summers & Sons Ltd [1957] 1 457, Assizes.Men working in or near wheel track of crane—Duty to take effective measures to prevent crane approaching within 20 ft of place where men liable to be struck by crane—Absolute duty—Exhibition of notice insufficient—Factories Act 1937, s 24(7). Lotinga v North Eastern Marine Engineering Co (1938) Ltd [1941] 3 1, KBD.Men working on or near wheel track of crane—Duty to take effective measures to prevent crane approaching within 20 ft of place where men liable to be struck by crane—Absolute duty—Breach of duty—Workman standing where not liable to be struck by crane injured by tool dislodged by crane—Factories Act 1937, s 24(7). Holmes v Hadfields Ltd [1944] 1 235, CA.

Parts and working gear—

Duty to ensure of good construction—Travelling crane with magnet—Defective cable conveying current to magnet—Employee killed—Whether cable one of 'parts and working gear' of lifting machine—Factories Act 1937, s 24(1). Gatehouse v John Summers & Sons Ltd [1953] 2 117, CA.

Lifting tackle—

Use for purpose of raising or lowering persons, goods or material—

Prohibition of use unless of good construction, sound material, adequate strength and free from patent defect—Chain sling—Chains of unequal length—Sprung hook—Factories Act 1937, s 23(1)(a). Dawson v Murex Ltd [1942] 1 483, CA.Prohibition of use unless of good construction, sound material, adequate strength and free from defect—Chains used in abattoir for attaching animals to elevator—Chains strong and without fault but unsuitable for purpose for which required—Whether of good construction, adequate strength and properly maintained—Factories Act 1937, ss 23(1), 24(1), 152(1). Gledhill v Liverpool Abattoir Utility Co Ltd [1957] 3 117, CA.

Use for purpose of raising or lowering persons, goods or material (cont)—

Prohibition of use unless of good construction, sound material, adequate strength and free from patent defect—Hook attached to overhead crane—Use to lift slightly edge of metal scab adhering to floor—Intention was to facilitate loosening of scab for removal—Hook not of adequate strength for the use to which it was being put—Flew off when strain taken by crane and injured workman who was standing too close—Strain involved was incalculable, so that adequacy of strength could not be computed—Whether operation 'raising material'—Contributory negligence—Factories Act 1961, s 26(1). Ball v Richard Thomas & Baldwins Ltd [1968] 1 389, CA. Gledhill

Prohibition of use unless of good construction, sound material, adequate strength and free from defect—Meaning of 'use'—Whether limited to use authorised by employer—Factories Act 1937, s 23(1)(a). Barry v Cleveland Bridge and Engineering Co Ltd [1963] 1 192, Assizes.

Prohibition of use unless of good construction, sound material, adequate strength and free from defect—Tackle of good construction, etc, supplied by employers, but used for wrong purpose by servant—Fellow-servant killed—Liability of employers—Factories Act 1937, s 23(1)(a). Beadsley v United Steel Companies Ltd [1950] 2 872, CA.

Lighting—

Duty to secure and maintain sufficient and suitable lighting—

General illumination over areas where persons are regularly employed—General illumination over other interior parts—Workman tripping over tool lying on floor in shadow of article being constructed in the factory—Shadow reducing otherwise sufficient lighting below required level—Accident occurred before work started or other employees were in factory—Whether employers in breach of statutory duty—Whether accident entirely workman's fault—Factories Act 1961, s 5(1)—Factories (Standards of Lighting) Regulations 1941 (S R & O 1941 No 94), reg 2(a),(b). Lane v Gloucester Engineering Co Ltd [1967] 2 293, CA.

Roadway in factory—Lighting equipment sufficient but light not turned on in early morning before full daylight—Employee going to work at 6.45 a.m. tripped on coil of wire in roadway and fell—Whether breach of obligation to make effective provision for securing and maintaining sufficient lighting—Factories Act 1961, s 5(1). Thornton v Fisher & Ludlow Ltd [1968] 2 241, CA.

Locomotive—

Safety regulations—

Contravention—Regulation for safety of persons employed—Fatal accident to servant of independent contractor in consequence of breach of regulation by occupier of factory—Liability of occupier to penalty—Factories Act 1937, s 133—Regulations for Use of Locomotives and Wagons on Lines and Sidings in or used in connection with premises under the Factory and Workshop Act 1901 (S R & O 1906 No 679), reg 14. Stanton Ironworks Co Ltd v Skipper [1955] 3 544, QBD.

Mill gearing—

Fencing. See Dangerous parts of machinery—Duty to fence—Mill gearing, ante.

Obstruction—

Floor. See Floor—Obstruction, ante.

Passage. See Passage—Duty to keep free from obstruction, post.

Offence—

Contravention of statutory provisions by occupier—

Occupier—Receiver and manager appointed by debenture holder—Liability to penalty for breach of statutory duty—Factories Act 1937, ss 130, 133. Meigh v Wickenden [1942] 2 68, KBD.

Person dying or sustaining injury—Injury to employee's health not directly caused by contravention—Accident due to employee's wilful disobedience to orders—Employee's hand injured—Whether injury was in consequence of contravention of statutory duty—Whether injury was an injury to health—Factories Act 1937, ss 14(1), 133. Dunn v Birds Eye Foods Ltd [1959] 2 403, QBD.

Person dying or suffering bodily injury—Person for whom occupier liable. Stanton Ironworks Ltd v Skipper [1955] 3 544, QBD.

Employee's contravention of statute by interference with fence of machine—

Another employee injured by reason of contravention—Not shown that occupier of factory had failed to take all reasonable steps to prevent contravention—Whether occupier liable—Factories Act 1961, ss 14(1), 143(1), 155(1),(2). Wright v Ford Motor Co Ltd [1966] 2 518, QBD.

Prosecution—

Time limit—Fatal accident—Inquest—Limitation period for laying information—Summary Jurisdiction Act 1848, s 11—Factories Act 1937, ss 24, 140(1),(4). Ross v English Steel Corpn Ltd [1945] 2 606, KBD.

Overhead travelling crane—

Statutory duty. See Lifting machine—Overhead travelling crane, ante.

Passage—

Duty to keep free from obstruction—

Roadway 30 feet wide in factory area—Employee coming to work in early morning tripped on coil of wire in roadway—Pavement of roadway normally obstructed—Roadway not swept at night—Whether roadway a 'passage' or 'gangway'—Factories Act 1961, s 28(1). Thornton v Fisher & Ludlow Ltd [1968] 2 241, CA.

FACTORY (cont)Premises excluded from definition—

Place within factory solely used for purpose other than process carried on in factory—

Administration block—Aeroplane engine factory—Administrative building within perimeter, but with separate entrance from highway—Building used for work of administrative and technical staff, the designing of engines, etc.—Whether administration block excluded from definition of 'factory', as being solely used for some purpose other than processes carried on in the factory—Factories Act 1961, s 175(6). Powley v Bristol Siddeley Engines Ltd [1965] 3 612, QBD.

Canteen for use of people employed in factory—Whether canteen part of 'factory'—Factories Act 1937, s 25(2), s 151(6). Luttman v Imperial Chemical Industries Ltd [1955] 3 481, Assizes.

Place within close, curtilage or precincts forming factory—Apron of aircraft hangar—Concrete surface forming apron of aircraft hangar—Apron and hangar in occupation of licensee—Hangar used by licensee as factory—Concrete surface being renewed by contractors—Accident to workman employed by contractors—Whether the place of accident was part of a factory—Factories Act 1937, s 151(1),(6). Walsh v Allweather Mechanical Grouting Co Ltd [1959] 2 588, CA.

Place within close, curtilage or precincts forming factory—Bay separated from operating part of factory—Whether bay part of factory—Factories Act 1937, s 151(6). Street v British Electricity Authority [1952] 1 679, CA.

Place within close, curtilage or precincts forming factory—Maintenance shop—Repair of plant used in factory—Whether part of factory—Factories Act 1937, s 14(1), s 151(6). Thorogood v Van Den Berghs and Jurgens Ltd [1951] 1 682, CA.

Place within close, curtilage or precincts forming factory—Pump house within curtilage of factory precincts—Factory carrying on work of bleaching and finishing textiles—Transmission machinery in pump house used to pump water under pressure into mill in factory—Employee injured by unfenced transmission machinery—Whether pump house a factory—Factories Act 1937, s 151(6). Newton v John Stanning & Son Ltd [1962] 1 78, QBD.

Restaurant within curtilage—Use by administrative staff—Exclusion of workmen—Dining room in restaurant occasionally used for conferences—Games room for apprentices—whether part of 'factory'—Factories Act 1937, s 151(1),(6). Thomas v British Thomson-Houston Co Ltd [1953] 1 29, QBD.

Protection of eyes—

Obligation to provide suitable goggles or effective screens—

Breach of duty—Causation—Workman engaged in welding process—Failure to provide suitable goggles or effective screen—Injury to eye—Injury caused by operation immediately subsequent to welding process—Accident would not have occurred if suitable goggles provided—Provision of effective screens would not have prevented accident—Whether employers liable for breach of statutory duty—Factories Act 1961, s 65. Hay v Dowty Mining Equipment Ltd [1971] 3 1136, Assizes.

Breach of duty—Causation—Injury to workman's eye—Failure of workman to show that he would have worn goggles if they had been provided—Factories Act 1937, s 49—Protection of Eyes Regulations 1938 (S R & O 1938 No 654), Schedule. Nolan v Dental Manufacturing Co Ltd [1958] 2 449, Assizes.

Cutting concrete by means of a tool—Cutting—Whether drilling hole in reinforced concrete 'cutting'—Building (Safety, Health and Welfare) Regulations 1948 (S I 1948 No 1145), reg 84, Sch II(2). Fallaize v Troughton & Young Ltd [1956] 3 127, QBD.

Cutting off of bolts from boilers or other plant—Plant—Protection of Eyes Regulations 1938 (S R & O 1938 No 654), Schedule. Watts v Enfield Rolling Mills (Aluminium) Ltd [1952] 1 1013, CA.

Fettling of metal castings—Fitter chipping groove in cast-iron component in course of assembly work—Whether 'fettling of metal castings'—Factories Act 1937, s 49—Protection of Eyes Regulations 1938 (S R & O 1938 No 654), Schedule. Prophet v Platt Bros & Co Ltd [1961] 2 644, CA.

Fettling of metal castings—Moulder removing 'runners' or 'gates' from castings—Whether 'fettling'—Factories Act 1937, s 49—Protection of Eyes Regulations 1938, (S R & O 1938 No 654), reg 1, Schedule. Williams v Falkirk Iron Co Ltd [1951] 1 294, Assizes.

Grinding machine—Goggles in foreman's office 30 feet from machine—Safe system of work—Contributory negligence—Whether goggles 'provided'—Whether breach of statutory duty—Factories Act 1937, s 49. Finch v Telegraph Construction and Maintenance Co Ltd [1949] 1 452, KBD.

Independent contractor's employee—Operation in factory by independent contractor using implement moved by mechanical power—No duty owed to contractor's employee by occupier of factory—Factories Act 1937, s 49, s 139—Protection of Eyes Regulations 1938 (S R & O 1938 No 654), Schedule. Whalley v Briggs Motor Bodies Ltd [1954] 2 193, Assizes.

Suitable goggles provided but liable to misting—Eye injured while cleaning misty goggles—Factories Act 1937, s 49. Daniels v Ford Motor Co Ltd [1955] 1 218, CA.

Welding or cutting of metals by electrical oxy-acetylene or similar process—Whether including cutting sheet metal by cold process—Factories Act 1937, s 49—Protection of Eyes Regulations 1938 (S R & O 1938 No 654), Schedule. Rees v Bernhard Hastie & Co Ltd [1953] 1 375, CA.

Removal of dust—

All practicable measures to be taken—

Obligation where dust likely to be injurious or where substantial quantity of dust of any kind—Breach of duty—Causation—Onus of proof—Health regulation for removal of dust—Tubercular condition of workman becoming active—Whether caused by breach of regulation—Factories Act 1937, s 47(1). Mist v Toleman & Sons (A firm) [1946] 1 139, CA.

Obligation where dust likely to be injurious or where substantial quantity of dust of any kind—Dust not known at date of accident to be dangerous—Masks not provided—Effective masks if supplied would not have been used by workmen—Provision of effective masks not a practicable measure—Factories Act 1937, s 47(1). Richards v Highway Ironfounders (West Bromwich) Ltd [1957] 2 162, QBD.

Obligation where dust likely to be injurious or where substantial quantity of dust of any kind—Duty to provide exhaust appliances—Standard of duty—Factories Act 1937, s 47(1). Adsett v K & L Steelfounders & Engineers Ltd [1953] 2 320, CA.

Obligation where dust likely to be injurious or where substantial quantity of dust of any kind—Iron foundry—Moulders not provided with masks—Whether breach of statutory duty—Factories Act 1937, s 47(1). Gregson v Hick Hargreaves & Co Ltd [1955] 3 507, CA.

Obligation where dust likely to be injurious or where substantial quantity of dust of any kind—Masks provided, but failure to take reasonable steps to induce workmen to wear them—Whether breach of statutory duty—Factories Act 1937, s 47(1). Crookall v Vickers-Armstrong Ltd [1955] 2 12, Assizes.

Obligation where dust likely to be injurious or where substantial quantity of dust of any kind—No failure to ventilate—Dust not of character or extent likely to be injurious—Duty of occupier—Factories Act 1937, s 4(1), s 47(1). Ebbs v James Whitson & Co Ltd [1952] 2 192, CA.
